& ALFRED PARKED & SCHUBERT 4 PERFORMED BY ITS COMPOSER ON A COM WO friends who called on the 18-

year-old Franz Schubert one day in 1815, found him feverishly pacing the floor in his room, reading Goethe's ballad, "The Erl-King," out loud. Glowing with excitement, he sat down, and in no time at all the music was on paper. Schubert did not own a piano, so the three companions rushed off to the music school, where Schubert's teacher played it for them.

POLITICS at Random

TNTIMATE friends of President Roosevelt are saying now that his program of social revolution and permanent economic reform probaly will attain full materialization only if and when he is elected to a second term.

They think the four years for which he was elected in 1932 will be occupied chiefly with emergency handling of the recovery policies. His own budget message, in which he named 1936 as the first year of restored prosperity, coincides with that suggestion.

When he runs for re-election in 1936, as everyone expects him to. his friends look for him to promise that a second term would be dedicated to the building of that new order to which he has made, thus far, only generalized references.

It is the belief of many in the administration that such current projects as stock market regulation. broking reform and even limited perpetuation of NRA principles merely nibble at the sort of permanent readjustment Mr. Roosevelt tes in mind tic unit as soon as the others. Mary's school still gave marks. Susan's thought them a bad thing, and had the unit system instead. The result in the two girls was the same.

The fault was not in the system. There always have been and always will be people who work for marks and people who work because they lke to do a thing and do it well no matter how hard it may be. And whatever the reward is called peopie react to it as they always have.

The point of attack throughout scould be the attitude of mind of parents, teachers and pupils. When they are very small, children need the stimulus of reward for good work. It may take the form of a word of praise, of a prize, or of a good mark, but, however immaterial, some expression of appreciation is necessary.

No can was especially interested, per enjectably represed. The name suggested to them all a rather driedup spinister, of which the college town had plenty. This particular one happened to be interested in an industrial mission. The mission, she said, needed all the old clothes thes could get. They sold the garments at a very small price to the men who applied for help and shelter. Sometimes, she said, all the men needed to get hack on their feet again was a decest suit of clothes. It was hard to get old chithes. And it had occurred to her that the men at the fraternity houses would have loss of of thes to discard before they were really at all hadly worn.

No one thought enough more about It to get together anything for the industrial mission. Then one afternoon at about five, when Bob Williams was reclining very comfortably before the open fire, Miss Dresden drest up in her flivrer and with jauncy self-assurwater walked to the front door of the fraternity house and rang the bell. As was the custom, Bob Williams, being nearest the front door, opened it, and straightway he knew that this Elsie Dresden was a very welcome number.

She had come for the clothes, she fold him. The industrial mission was her pet charity. She and her grandmother, she explained, had not lived in fown long and they felt that they were fortunate to have such an inter-

The total national production of totatoes for the year is reported at 317,142,000 hushels. This is a little less than 2 is bushels per cap-:ta for our 125,600,000 people.

All of the old time market estimators were educated to consider this almost a phenomenally low per capita supply. If people were eating potatoes as they did ten or fifteen years ago, before there were such an excellent supply of green vegetables through the winter, there would be a potato famine next spring.

The statement of Senator J. Mc-Naboe. Tammany Lemourat, that he would not recognize the leadership of Senator John J. Dunnigan, majority leader, and would vote independently, still was a principal topic of discussion.

His not unexpected stand breaks his party's one-vote majority in the apper house.

"I don't care how he votes," was meeting Wednesday evening. Senator Dunnigan's only comment. Among the major developments at last night's session was the passage by the senate, with but four objecting votes, of the Dunnigan bill permitting Mayor LaGuardia to name Robert Moses head of a consolidated potatoes, lima beans, cabbage salad. park system.

Unanimous approval was given by the senate of the mayor's request for dessert, authority to name Fire Chief John J. McElligott commissioner in charge of all the city's firefighting forces.

So important is the handling of Turkish tobacco in making Chesterfield cigarettes that Liggent & Myers Tobacco Co., maintains this specially equipped plant right in the heart of the famous Smyrna tobacco section.

It is the largest and most modern tobacco factory in the Near East.

Turkish tobacco, you know, is the best "seasoning" there is for cigarettes. At all times Chesterfield has in storage - at this plant and in America - about 350,000 bales of the right kinds of Turkish sobucco.
